Mar/2019 to May/2019
Nov/2017 to Nov/2017

The very first month inside Vollup's team:

Team consisted in 4 junior web developers. One of them helped me once with PHP and mySQL queries. But also two of them got my help with Javascript two times, which made me proud and confident - my boss also gave me an excited compliment for the solution that I suggested.

Despite some great moments and getting more and more confidence, I felt several times in a very toxic environment, under abusive relationship, which forced me to quit the job.

4. MARIMARIA MAKEUP.COM

Help on final adjustments before store release	Vtex E-commerce
--	-----------------

Very deep dive into Vtex platform, not only customization of pages but handling the whole MetaData API, how update and get data from Vtex database, a very good challenge to deal with. Great chance to learn how to work with a platform hated by most developers - but not me.

5. WOLFFCAFE.COM.BR

Maintenance	Store administration	Vtex Ecommerce.
-------------	----------------------	-----------------

Capable of reading someone else's Javascript code and adjust it to new demands. Great opportunity to learn how to set promotion details of Vtex platform, the client used us to update new products since it's team had the proper person under a pregnancy license. No challenges faced here.

6. BRINDES.COM.BR

Maintenance	MarketPlace	PHP, mySQL
Domain migration	Javascript	Laravel, Cake

Project showed me how big was my lack of PHP knowledge. Months later I started a 50-hour course that allowed me to code at least the basics.

7. GINGER.COM.BR

95% Frontend	Single developer	Simpleux template
5% Backend	Landing-page	Vanilla Javascript
Some support from client's designer via PowerPoint		CSS, Flexbox, Bootstrap 4

Next steps

As a huge fan of Javascript and specially React.js, I'm now moving towards to learn these techs:

- Next.js and server-side rendering
- Typescript
- Strapi headless CMS
- GraphQL database
- Stripe payments
- Cypress
- Gatsby.js static site generator
- Node.js
